Roughan Interiors

Christina Roughan of Roughan Interiors catered to her client's chic style by selecting elegant furnishings with a touch of modern. Pattern was introduced with a marble floor in a chevron layout. "We took advantage of the high ceilings and created a jewel box of monochromatic blues, ivories and whites," notes Roughan.

Sam Allen Interiors

Sam Allen, of Sam Allen Interiors, describes his personal powder room as "East Coast classic gets an update with a dose of chinoiserie chic." The subtle orange accent in the not-so-subtle bamboo lattice wallpaper is amped up in signature Allen style with detailing on the window treatment and monogrammed towels.

Good Bones, Design by Graham Veysey

Designer Graham Veysey's clients wanted something fun and fresh for their home. Veysey delivered with color and pattern. The wallpaper, an archival design from the '70s, was reimagined in today's colors. Another bold move is the bright blue ceiling. The contemporary, silver-tone hammered sink and sleek faucet balance the abundance of color and pattern. —Mary Fitzgerald
