Michael Amato

Electrifying shapes radiate light for pure drama.

You won't find any frills, furbelows, or excess ornamentation in this collection of fixtures by Michael Amato—a South Carolina designer-turned-lighting maestro. Clean, simple lines in architectural frameworks emphasize the powerful shapes of the lanterns, pendants, carriage lamps, sconces, and floor lamps that Amato has created for Urban Electric Co. (843/723-8140). When Amato adds contrast—like mirrored panels against blackened pewter to reflect light in myriad directions—the result is positively theatrical. Available in a variety of glass and finish options.
